

The Revolution of 1800 and the Principles of Ninety-Eight

Provide a short but precise response to each of the following questions. (2pts. Each)

1. Thomas Jefferson called his election a revolution. What were two reasons given to support this view?
2. Provide any two reasons that suggest a retreat from Republican principles. Explain.
3. Why can it be said that the Republicans were not truly the same as anti-federalist?
4. Explain how the 'Milan Decree' and the "Orders-in-Council" impacted American economic policy?
5. How did the Republicans differ from the Federalists in their reaction to world events that may have led to war with European powers?